

Register search

 Click here to conduct a register search now

The Tongan register is an electronic register where company information and documents can be viewed online. There are three options available to you for conducting a register search. Searching is easy and the information is FREE.

A register search allows you to locate a company using either the company name or company number. This search will locate the companies that are currently incorporated as well as those that have been removed from the register.

Number search

Standard name search

Keyword search

Step by step instructions

Number search

Every company registered with the Companies Office has a unique reference identifier called its "company number." As part of the conversion of the historical company records of the companies office to an electronic database, all existing company numbers have had the prefix "900" added to them. So, if you know the existing number for a company, simply type in 900 followed by the old number in the standard search field and click on submit search. The next screen displays the company name and new number. Click on the link to see more information about that company.

Standard name search

Enter the first few characters of a company name in the standard search box and click on submit search. Click on a company name from the list to see more information about that company.

If you wish to select another company from this list, select the Previous Search button to return to the list.

Keyword search

Keywords can appear anywhere within a company name. Choose words that you think will return fewer results. Common words like 'Investments', 'Holdings', 'Limited' and 'Company' cannot be searched as they are not keywords. Please note that only whole words are recognized in this type of search.

 Click here to conduct a register search now